Objective and investment policy

The objective of the Company is to achieve capital and income growth by investing on a worldwide basis. Although the Company aims to provide dividend growth over time, its primary aim is to maximise total returns to shareholders.

The Company is prepared to move freely between different markets, sectors, industries, market capitalisations and asset classes as investment opportunities dictate. On acquisition, no holding shall exceed 15% of the portfolio. The Company will not invest more than 15% of its gross assets in UK listed investment companies. Assets other than equities may be purchased from time to time including but not limited to fixed interest holdings, unquoted securities and derivatives. Subject to prior Board approval, the Company may use derivatives for investment purposes or for efficient portfolio management (including reducing, transferring or eliminating investment risk in its investments and protection against currency risk).

The number of individual holdings will vary over time. To ensure diversification of opportunity and management of risk, there will be between 40 and 140 holdings, and the portfolio will be managed on a global basis rather than as a series of regional sub-portfolios.

The Board and Investment Manager assess investment performance with reference to the MSCI All Country World Index (GBP). However, little attention is paid to the composition of this index when constructing the portfolio and the composition of the portfolio is likely to vary substantially from that of the index. A long-term view is taken and there may be periods when the net asset value per share declines in absolute terms and relative to the comparative index.

Chairman's statement

Performance

For the six months ended 31 December 2019 the Company's share price rose by 6.7% on a total return basis with dividends assumed to be re-invested. This compares to a total return from the MSCI All Country World Index (GBP) of 4.6%.

The Company's net asset value per share rose 5.0%, in capital only terms, and by 5.8% on a total return basis. Since Artemis' appointment as Investment Manager on 1 May 2014 the net asset value per share has increased by 127.1%, on a total return basis, against the comparative index increase of 94.8%.

As at 31 December 2019 the shares stood at a 3.6% premium to net asset value.

Further details of the performance of the Company during the period are included in the Investment Manager's review.

Earnings and Dividend

The net return for the six months to 31 December 2019 was a gain of 31.13 pence per share, comprising a revenue gain of 3.49 pence per share and a capital gain of 27.64 pence per share. The Board is proposing an interim dividend of 3.00 pence per share which, will be paid on 31 March 2020 to those shareholders on the register at the close of business on 13 March 2020. This represents an increase of 51.5% on last year's interim dividend of 1.98 pence. The rate of increase in the interim dividend should not be understood as indicative of the size of the final dividend. The Board considers, in light of the level of share issuance, that the interim dividend should so far as possible be rebalanced towards parity with the final dividend. It continues to be the aim of the Board to grow the dividend but this will not be done at the expense of capital or if market conditions dictate otherwise.

Share capital

Over the six month period, demand for the Company's shares has continued to be strong and they have traded at a premium to net asset value each day.

The Board is pleased to report that for the period from 1 July 2019 to 31 December 2019, 4,270,000 new ordinary shares have been issued in the market, raising £24.5 million, net of issue costs. This represents an increase of 10.4% on the share capital at the start of the year. As at 27 February 2020, a further 1,710,000 new ordinary shares have been issued.

Borrowings

The Company has in place a three year, US$30 million multi-currency facility with Scotiabank. This is due to expire on 19 February 2021. An additional amount of US$2.0m was drawn down in November 2019 bringing the total borrowing to US$5m and EUR3m as at the period end, equating to £6.3m. This facility continues to provide flexibility for the Investment Manager to take advantage of attractive markets.

Board Composition

As reported in my statement within the Annual Financial Report for the year ended 30 June 2019, the Board has begun a period of change. As the first step in this process, it is a great pleasure to welcome Mrs Diana Dyer Bartlett to the Board following her appointment as a non-executive Director on 1 February 2020. She is a qualified chartered accountant and has extensive listed company and finance experience. Diana will stand for election at the Annual General Meeting to be held in November 2020 (the 'AGM').

Auditor

As communicated to shareholders, Scott Moncrieff resigned as independent auditor to the Company on 23 January 2020. The Audit Committee recently undertook an audit tender process and arrangements are being finalised for the appointment of the new external auditor.

A full outline of the audit tender process will be provided in the Annual Financial Report for the year ending 30 June 2020 and a resolution to appoint the new independent auditor and authorise the Directors to fix its remuneration will be proposed at the AGM.

Outlook

The six months to 31 December 2019, and in particular the last quarter, brought some renewed positivity to the global stage. The expectation of forthcoming clarity over Brexit, however distant, and the increased likelihood of better US-China trade relations, produced a calmer start to 2020. That being said, the recent outbreak of the Coronavirus in China has created some market uncertainty, explored further in the Investment Manager's review. The Investment Manager continues to ensure the portfolio is both balanced and diverse so that the Company is in a good position to react to market conditions by taking opportunities or defending as situations require.

Investment Manager's review

Review of period

Global equity markets went from fearing recession in September to levels of enthusiasm in December following a US-China phase 1 trade deal and progress in UK politics. Companies were neither very gloomy in September, nor that much more positive at year end. Global equity indices rose 8% in dollar terms, but this translated to only 4.5% in sterling terms as the pound bounced vigorously on the election result.

Performance

The Company's net asset value per share rose 5.8% over the first half of the year compared with an index return of 4.6%, continuing the healthy returns for global equity investors.

Although some investors have been discussing so-called 'value' opportunities, your portfolio performed best in 'growth' areas: our online services theme (including financial technology companies such as Fiserv) and our automation theme. However, some of our more 'value' oriented investments, such as Vodafone, also contributed. Indeed, the diversification in the Company worked well with returns coming from many different themes, sectors and lesser-known stocks.

Relative to the index, the worst thing we did was to hold no Apple, which has come back into favour since its poor numbers at the start of the year. The very high weight of Apple in the index makes this exception a large negative to relative performance.

Artemis' investment process

Our aim is to identify areas of commercial growth around the world and invest in companies that trade on attractive valuations and give the Company exposure to this growth. We select high quality companies, with proven profitability and high levels of cash generation, preferring businesses with strong balance sheets and those that have established strong barriers to entry. Such companies sometimes lag equity markets when they recover, but they protect capital well when economic conditions become more testing. Over time, we have found this investment approach gives a solid framework to deliver consistent returns to investors.

Current investment themes

Automation (16% of investments) – We have been slowly increasing investments in this long-term theme as automation investment has been delayed due to the US-China trade disputes. The agreement reached at the end of the year is principally designed to decrease the balance of trade between those countries, concentrating on commodities. An agreement covering trade in intellectual property will be much harder to reach. All the same, at year end there were signs that robot demand in China may have reached a bottom and that the large back-log in automation orders will come through soon. The valuations of some stocks in this area already discount some recovery, so we will monitor progress and valuations in the year ahead.

Online Services (20% of investments) – A range of different investments performed well in this broad theme. We have increased our investments in financial technology companies, buying Fiserv which merged with First Data Corporation and investing in FIS which acquired Worldpay. The future of financial services is increasingly about software and online service provision and established suppliers often take very large shares of the market. Despite some investors saying this was a time to sell all the old growth stocks and to buy value, many of the old growth stocks carried on growing perfectly well – Microsoft's share price, for instance, rising 18% over the six months and Mastercard only slightly less.

Healthcare Costs (12% of investments) – Despite Senators Warren and Sanders continuing to fare reasonably well in the Democratic Primaries, talk of an American NHS seems to be fading – with some politicians describing this as 'banning Americans from spending their own money on their own health'. Such talk had hung over our investments in American health insurance companies, but these have started to recover. Meanwhile our investments in pharmaceutical companies at the cutting edge in cancer immunology continue to show strong growth as their products are more widely adopted.

Scientific Equipment (6% of investments) – Our investments in scientific equipment have continued to produce consistent growth. We took profits in Hitachi Hi-Tec which has been a very good investment for us. The parent company may be prepared to sell this controlled subsidiary – a sign of the times that, in Japan these days, takeover prospects can drive share prices.

Emerging Market Consumer (14% of investments) – It is something of a puzzle that, with an improving US economy and a weaker US dollar, prospects for emerging markets seem lacklustre. Indeed, between riots in Hong Kong and Chile and significant GDP slowdowns in South Africa and India, we remain wary, especially as valuations of the best locally listed stocks are rather high. Our developed market holdings selling into emerging markets generally had a reasonable period, Louis Vuitton again with the best performance.

Low Carbon World (10% of investments) – This theme performed slightly less well during this half year, despite the rising enthusiasm for progress towards environmental goals. As can happen in capital markets, the leading wind farm company – our largest investment Orsted – noted that returns from new projects were falling due to less experienced, but well financed companies bidding very aggressively for contracts. We have taken a few profits and await developments.

Screen Time (7% of investments) – Over the last six months many of the investments we have made in this theme have performed well, especially as it included some modestly valued companies such as Vodafone and Nippon Telecom. However, as the valuations rose sharply, we have taken some profits. Our largest investment is now Walt Disney whose new streaming service seems to be attracting large numbers of subscribers in the USA.

High Quality Assets (15% of investments) – This is the theme in which we most often hold so-called 'value' stocks – out of favour companies whose asset backing may be of greater importance than their growth prospects. Earlier in the year we were finding a number of opportunities of this type, but as some of these shares have performed, their valuation attractions fade, their low growth prospects become an issue and we move on. We have reduced our holdings in gold mines during the period and sold our disappointing investment in Unibail.

Tourism – we have decided to sell out of our Tourism theme after many years. We believe that very cheap air fares are the result of jet fuel being under-taxed and that increased environmental concerns will see this anomaly addressed, reducing tourism numbers and growth prospects.

Outlook

2020 started with economies likely to grow more rapidly than the previous year, led by the USA and with inflation still subdued. These hopes were then interrupted by the outbreak of the Coronavirus in China which, at the time of writing, seems to be actively monitored. Necessary action to contain the spread of the virus has interrupted global supply chains and so first half GDP growth for the global economy may well prove less vigorous than hoped for. However, the areas of investment we choose tend to avoid more economically sensitive sectors. Over the last decade, unexpected events such as the SARS virus, the Thai floods or the Fukushima reactor breakdown have seemed likely to upset financial markets at the time, but years later are hard to notice on the longer-term stock market chart.

Furthermore, the companies that we hold generally had a good year last year and saw their cash flows steadily growing. Valuations seem modestly higher than this time last year, but that was after a very turbulent period in equity markets at the end of 2018. Much of the growth in our companies comes from opportunities in our chosen themes and research and development within the companies themselves: we expect this will again be the main source of growth in the year ahead.

Global equity investing has been fruitful now for over a decade and there is bound to be a rough period at some stage. However, our balanced portfolio of high quality and very healthy businesses, with good revenue growth and improving economic conditions, should be able to produce further gains this year and for the years to follow.

The Company's position is set out below:

| | As at 31 December 2019 £'000 | As at 30 June 2019 £'000 | As at 31 December 2018 £'000 |

Leverage is defined in the AIFMD as any method by which an AIFM increases the exposure of an Alternative Investment Fund it manages, whether through borrowing of cash or securities, or leverage embedded in derivative positions or by any other means.

There are two measures of calculating leverage:

- the gross method, which does not reduce exposure for hedging; and
- the commitment method, which reduces exposure for hedging.

| Average net assets | 223,540 | 196,426 | 179,153 |

| Opening net asset value | 553.20 | 493.23 | 493.23 |
| Closing net asset value | 581.10 | 553.20 | 455.49 |
| Dividends paid during financial period | 3.85 | 5.73 | 3.75 |
| | 5.8% | 13.3% | (7.0)% |

Share price total return for the period/year ended

|--|--------------------------|----------------------|--------------------------|
| Opening share price | 568.00 | 498.00 | 498.00 |
| Closing share price | 602.00 | 568.00 | 465.00 |
| Dividends paid during financial period | 3.85 | 5.73 | 3.75 |
| | 6.7% | 15.2% | (5.9)% |

The total returns percentages assumes that dividends paid out by the Company are re-invested into shares at the value on the ex-dividend date and so the figure will be slightly different to the arithmetic calculation.
